Professional Biography of Syed Mohammad Amin Founder & Managing Director, Super Star Electrical – UAE

Syed Mohammad Amin is a seasoned electrical professional and the visionary founder of Super Star Electrical, a leading electrical services company established in 2006 in the United Arab Emirates. With over four decades of experience in the electrical industry, his journey reflects dedication, technical mastery, and a commitment to excellence.

He began his professional career in the UAE with Abu Dhabi Distribution Company (ADDC), where he served for nearly 20 years. During his time with ADDC, he developed deep expertise in electrical systems, infrastructure, and safety protocols while contributing to the nation's growing power distribution network.

Building on his experience and reputation, in 2006, he founded Super Star Electrical, with a vision to offer high-quality, reliable electrical services in both public and private sectors. Under his leadership, the company has successfully delivered numerous projects across residential, commercial, and industrial sectors – earning trust through timely execution and high standards. Coming from a family with a strong legacy in the electrical field, Syed Mohammad Amin represents the third generation in this profession. His five brothers also served in the same UAE government electrical department, making the family known for their technical competence and service ethics. His father and grandfather were also part of the same field, making electrical work not just a profession but a proud family tradition.

Today, continues to lead Super Star Electrical with the same passion and dedication, mentoring the next generation and ensuring the company adapts to modern technologies while staying grounded in its core values of trust, quality, and safety.

“Electricity is not just our business — it's our family legacy.”
— Syed Mohammad Amin, Founder, Super Star Electrical
